Digital Book Labs has evolved from a one-room book promotion start-up to one of the largest book promotion enterprises in the industry. Our book promotion agency came into being with an aim to offer unparalleled services to authors by promoting their books. We are committed to making you and your book newsworthy. We have a boasting track record of promoting thousands of books of various genres, through our traditional and self-publishing services.

DIGITAL BOOK LABS COMPANY HISTORY

Digital Book Labs started as a one-man company with no previous experience in the business, Dan James was a school literature teacher with a passion for English literature. He worked as a school teacher with multiple schools and it was his passion for books and producing good content for young readers, once his students. He started working as a writer for a publishing house early on in his career to satisfy his passion for book reading. He was overworked for 18 hours a day and would often be found at his desk every morning.

Dan started attending all the relevant exhibitions and book publishing events, he met many publishing gurus and PR agency chiefs. He interacted with many of them, and found that he did not agree with the way books were promoted to the audience. He believed that they lacked the heart and vision of the author in the promotion.
